Benefit Concert with Tetsu Kitagawa
Andrew McGarrah, Pat Scanlon and Friends

Saturday, June 18
8:15 – 10:00 pm
Old Center Hall (3 Great Pond Road)
North Andover

Tetsu Kitagawa, one of Japan’s most famous singer/song writers, (described as “Japan’s Bob Dylan”) is deeply engaged internationally with people’s movements. Kitagawa is performing an extraordinary 100 consecutive concerts across the U.S. for nuclear abolition and to defend Japan’s peace constitution, Article 9 – “renunciation of war”.

Veterans for Peace’s Pat Scanlon will open the concert with friends. Andrew McGarrah, who sang “Sadako” at the Closing Plenary in Hiroshima 2010 will again join Kitagawa.

The concert will cap the 19th Annual International Conference of the Global Network at Merrimack College: “Raytheon, Missile Offense, and Endless War.”

Tickets: $10, on sale at the door.
Proceeds benefit Global Network Against Weapons & Nuclear Power in Space
